

RULES OF CONDUCT VIDA DEL MAR CONDOMINIUMS

January 2026

INTRODUCTION

Vida del Mar consists of twenty-six acres which provide a feeling of openness as well as the convenience of condominium living. Since condominium living is a different experience for many owners and guests, we ask all occupants to keep in mind that we are living very close to one another and need to be considerate of one another. All the following Rules of Conduct are designed to make living here enjoyable for all residents and their guests.

Vida del Mar uses video security cameras in public areas on our property.

REGISTRATION AND OCCUPANCY

An occupant is defined as an adult, minor person, child or infant.

1. All occupants and pets must be registered at the office immediately upon arrival. If arriving after the office is closed, occupants must be registered with the guard gate. It is critical that the Vida office be aware of all occupants and guests on the property to assure that all occupants are accounted for should an emergency, such as an earthquake, occur. It is in everyone's best interest for safety and security reasons.
2. All owners/renters must read and sign the Summary of the Rules of Conduct (Guidelines for All occupants) in the Vida office at the time of registration. Each person signing this document will be held accountable for understanding and adhering to each regulation.
3. The minimum rental period permitted is seven (7) days and no less. Any nonowner must have a written authorization, letter, fax, or e-mail confirmation from the owner of record, or they will not be permitted to occupy a unit. If the owner desires to use an agent for purposes of authorizing other persons to use the owner's unit, the owner must notify the office, in writing or e-mail at least three (3) days before the guest arrival, and specifically authorize that agent, by name, to do so. Further, the agent must register each guest with the office. If the agent does not do so, no one will be admitted to the owner's unit since the office needs time to ensure the condo is clean and safe for occupancy. If the non-owner arrives after hours, the owner or agent must arrange with reception to leave a key at the security guard station. \\

4. No key will be provided to renters or guests by the office. Owners must establish a keyless entry or designated agent to handle disbursement of a key or other means to enter condo. Since the manager has the right to enter any private unit for the purposes of making necessary repairs or in case of extreme urgency to maintain, protect and conserve the private unit, owners must provide the office with a code, key or combination to any lock/keyless entry which will be kept at the office for use during times of emergency. Whenever the code or combination is changed the owner must provide the manager with a new key or combination to such keyless entry.

Guards at each gate will keep a record of license plate numbers and times of all vehicles entering and leaving Vida. Any exception will be at the authorization of the Vida management.

6. To avoid overcrowding and preserve comfort and safety RENTAL occupancy will be limited to a maximum of six (6) persons per two-bedroom unit and four (4) persons per one-bedroom unit. Small children and infants individually count as one occupant.
7. Check out is also required. If checking out after office hours, please notify the office in advance so the departure date and time are recorded. This is important for cleaning service and security purposes.
8. If there is any question as to whether a guest may be in violation of these rules on check in, a call will be made to the owner of record, so that said owner may help correct the problem.

PARKING

Vida has 199 condominium units, but only 168 lined parking spaces. It is therefore important that everyone adhere to the parking regulations described below.

During High Season (December, January, February, March, and April (through the Easter holiday), all parking rules will be in effect. Since Low Season (after Easter holiday through November) has fewer condo occupants and therefore fewer cars, Prime Parking Rules are suspended. All other rules are in effect throughout the entire calendar year. Additional parking rules may be adopted if it proves necessary.

General Parking

Please remember: Only one vehicle may be parked in a parking spot. No parked vehicle may block access to the drivers on the road. No parking areas are assigned to individuals. All parking spots are obtained on a first come – first served basis.

1. Owners of these vehicles should exercise good judgement so that their large vehicles do not limit access and safety. Vehicles allowed to park are sedans, station wagons, SUV's, small minivans, small pickup trucks, compacts, and motorcycles. If some pickup trucks, SUV's and minivans are large enough to cause vision or access problems when parked in certain lined parking spots the office may assign another parking spot. Additional vehicles may NOT be parked in prime parking areas or on grassy areas.
2. No RV's or campers are permitted at any time.
3. No persons will be allowed to live or sleep in any vehicle in any Vida parking area.
4. No storage of boats or trailers is allowed on Vida property. Building materials may not be stored unless they are for immediate use by an owner,

Prime Parking

OWNERS = WHITE PARKING LINES

While in residence, each condo owner is entitled to one and only one parking space per condominium owned. Owner may park in prime condo parking areas, which are those parking areas defined by white painted lines on the ground. If an owner or occupant wishes to have more than one vehicle on Vida premises during low season, a request should be made at the office regarding available parking spaces in non-prime areas. During high season (December through April), owners are allowed one vehicle per each condominium owned. Each vehicle should routinely be parked in the lot nearest their personal condominium. Temporary parking (less than 6 hours) is allowed throughout Vida Property. In the event all white parking spots are in use, the owner may choose to use a yellow lined spot.

RENTERS AND GUESTS = YELLOW PARKING LINES

Renters and Guests should park their vehicles in yellow lined parking areas. If no yellow lined areas are available, they may check with the office or security personnel for other available areas. These spots are not reserved and are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Guests and renters must place the placard, assigned by the office staff or security personnel upon registration, on their vehicle dashboard.

Handicapped Parking

1. If an owner has a handicap and wishes to obtain a designated handicapped parking space, they must complete a written request form obtained from the Vida office. The request must show proof of need by attaching a signed and dated note from your doctor specifying why handicapped parking is necessary. (This may be an e-mailed copy sent from a doctor.)

2. Once approved by management, owners may ask for a handicapped parking sign to be placed in a prime parking area near the entrance to their building. A parking card will be given to the owner to place on the dashboard of the car for identification. No more than 10% of the parking spaces adjacent to a building may be dedicated to handicapped parking. If more than 10% of the owners in a particular building have requested and qualified for a handicapped parking space, then a “first come, first served” concept will be applied; it is incumbent upon those owners to cooperate and share usage of those spaces.

All requests are considered temporary. Owners should notify management when they are leaving Vida del Mar so that the signs may be removed. Permits must be renewed each season. Those abusing the use of these spaces may be fined.

LONG-TERM ABSENCES = MORE THAN SEVEN DAYS

Office Parking Lot

The office parking lot has been designated for owners who cannot park in front of their building and will be gone for more than 7 days and not longer than two months. They must register their car with management before leaving.

Pending approval by management, the office lot can also allow owners with more than one car a place to park. Storage of trailers is not allowed.

Enforcement

Vida management is empowered by the Board to enforce these parking rules. Owners or occupants who are in violation of these parking rules shall be notified of the violation by Vida security personnel who will contact the owner/occupant in person about the violation notice. If a violation occurs, violators will be contacted by Vida security personnel who will contact the owner/occupant in person about the violation notice. The owner/occupant will have 24 hours to bring the violation into compliance. Failure to do so may result in fines being levied under the Penalties section, subsection “General Fines” in the Vida del Mar Rules of Conduct document.

SMOKING POLICY

In January 2023 the Mexican government enacted a No Smoking Law. In the spirit of this law, the following rules for smoking must be followed at Vida del Mar.

Vida del Mar has the obligation to ensure that occupants of multi-family housing receive the protection that further restrictions provide. The overall goal is protecting public health and reduce exposure to harmful tobacco smoke.

SMOKING IS NOT ALLOWED on any Vida property outside of individual condominiums.

Including but not limited to:

1. In or near the Vida office, Gunn Room (meeting room, Library and Gym),
2. In or near maintenance/gardening buildings, storage units (bodegas) and all building walkways or stairwells.
3. All pool areas
4. All parking areas

SMOKING IS ALLOWED only in Individually owned condominium units, with permission from the owner.

Residents are encouraged to report non-compliance of these smoking rules.

STORAGE UNIT POLICY

Reference: Vida Rules and Regulations (2008)

There are only two types of property in Vida – “private units” and “common areas”.

Article 6

Private units are apartments (including decks/patios) but nothing else, therefore storage areas/bodegas must be considered as common areas. Article 2 (12)

The use of such storage areas/bodegas must be consistent with the purpose for which they were designed, that is: storage areas for the owners of the building in which they are located. Article 13 (2)

Intention

When storage areas were established, it was determined that these areas would be used by owners of the buildings in which they were located. The purpose of these units was to allow for storage of items not used daily in one’s condo, i.e., suitcases, plastic storage boxes, card table and chairs and other small items that are packed securely in a plastic container.

Storage Area Rules

Usage

1. Only owners of each building may use its storage.
2. A master key for your designated storage area must be signed out from the office and returned on the same day. You have two options for securing a key:
 - A. Check out a master key from the office, use it and return it the same day.
 - B. Check out the master key and make a copy for yourself. Return the master key to the office on the same day and register your own key at the same time.
3. Storage units must be locked when not in use.

Property Storage

1. Space must be shared equally.
2. As much as possible, all belongings must be kept in totes clearly marked with the owner’s name and unit number.
3. All other larger property (suitcases, golf clubs, bicycles, coolers) must be clearly marked with owner’s name and unit number.
4. Construction material will not be stored in common area storage areas.
5. No flammable liquids or other substances of hazardous material, including propane tanks may be stored.

6. Obsolete or non-functional devices, large old appliances, large furniture, BBQs, broken items, etc. should be removed from Vida property.
7. Each owner must be solely responsible for their own property and hold Vida harmless from any claim.

Maintenance

1. All storage area units should be kept organized, safe, and clean. Owners using the storage area need to ensure that storage boxes and other items are not blocking access.
2. Any problems/issues with a storage unit should be reported to the office.

Water Sports Equipment Storage (Kayaks, Paddle Boards)

A separate building has been designated for storage of kayaks and paddle boards. Each space in the room will have a number so ownership can be determined. Larger kayaks that don't fit in the Kayak Room, paddleboards, canoes, and bicycles should be stored in owner's storage units in their building.

These rules do not cover everything in the Condominium Regulations of Vida del Mar. If any conflict exists, the Condominium Regulations shall prevail. All owners are encouraged to read and adhere to these rules and the Condominium Regulations. It is the goal of the Board of Directors that the general compliance of these Rules will further the peaceful enjoyment of all owners and occupants of our beloved Vida del Mar.

These rules were adopted by the Board of Directors July 2012 and last revised January 2026.
